THE BLACK HOLE

is awaiting to engulf you...

Starring Maximilian Schell,
Anthony Perkins, Robert
Forster, Joseph Bottoms, Yvette Mimieux and
Ernest Borgnine.

The U.S.S. Cygnus is perched precariously at the edge of a black hole; the vast, empty nothingness where space and time end. Anything that crosses the border enters a universe of the complete unknown. And so begins a dazzling space adventure that pits its all-star cast against the stars, with some remarkably special effects.

Now, exclusively on

SUMMER FUN WITH THE DISNEY CHANNEL

Summer fun starts this month on The Disney Channel! Beach parties, picnics, pleasure trips...tennis, golf, baseball...fishing, hunting, camping out...

rodeos, circuses, concerts... The name of the game is getting together, going places, doing things—and that's where your Disney Channel stars!

Step right up, ladies and gentlemen and children of all ages! Here comes "Dumbo," Walt Disney's beloved full-length cartoon about the little elephant with the outsized ears who became a circus clown. And in WISH UPON A STAR there's a further treat for any kids who've ever dreamed of crashing Clown Alley. They'll find out how a "wishful thinker" became a performer under the Big Top, and on page 22 of this Magazine are directions for creating clown makeup.

Summertime's vacation time, and everybody likes to get away from it all. This month on The Disney Channel you'll travel to distant places and sunny climes. How about a cruise to France on a luxury liner, with a delightful stop-over in Paris and Fred MacMurray as your companion? Watch "Bon Voyage," and share Fred's surprises as he and his family embark on the vacation of their lives.

Or, if you've a taste for excitement and adventure, select "The Swiss Family Robinson" and land on an uncharted desert island where five brave castaways are beginning a new, resourceful life. After they rescue a girl who's been captured by pirates, you'll feel the suspense when the buccaneers come ashore seeking revenge.

SHIPWRECKED
SWISS FAMILY ROBINSON

Entertainment and action for the whole family begins with MOUSETERPIECE THEATER, EPCOT MAGAZINE, YOU AND ME, KID AND EPCOT AMERICA! AMERICA! Turn to the "GET INVOLVED" section (pages 28 through 32) of your Disney Channel Magazine, then watch the shows and play along. You'll enjoy matching wits with the programs' hosts.

Remote regions of the earth are fascinating. They beckon bewitchingly, promising mystery, danger and challenge to those who journey there. You can heed the call of the wild with globe-trotting Bill Burrud on NEW! ANIMAL WORLD, and discover wonders of nature with field reporters on THE SCHEME OF THINGS.

But perhaps you prefer outings closer to home, with good old friends for company. In that case head for the wide open spaces with Mickey Mouse and Donald Duck in "Mickey's Trailer," camp out in the woods with Donald Duck on "Donald's Vacation," and pitch your tent with Pluto in "Camp Dog." You'll have a lot of laughs along the way.

Sports fans needn't leave the house at all to enjoy one of the greatest baseball movies ever made. "Pride of the Yankees" stars Gary Cooper as the immortal Lou Gehrig. For a companion piece, and not to be outdone, Goofy has his innings on the diamond in an informative short cartoon, "How to Play Baseball."

June, of course, brings Father's Day. As a special salute to fathers everywhere, this issue of The Disney Channel Magazine features some affectionate memories of Walt Disney by his daughter, Diane Disney Miller.

Hats off to summer! Happy viewing on The Disney Channel! ♥

A Special Father's Day Remembrance

By Diane Disney Miller

When my sister Sharon and I were small, we didn't know our father was famous. He drove us to school in the morning, went to work, and came home at night. So I got a real surprise one day when one of my school friends asked, "Is your father really Walt Disney?" I hadn't thought about that, and it suddenly struck me. I could hardly wait until Dad got home that night. Before he could even sit down, I ran up to him and said, "Why didn't you tell me you were WALT DISNEY?"

As we grew older, of course, we began to realize what a remarkable father we had. He was fun, he was funny, he was supportive. Always. He loved his family, and he made us feel important to him. Looking back, I can see where much of what he intended for the world in general began in some way with us.

There were the Sunday trips to Griffith Park near our home. Dad would pick us up after Sunday school, and we would ride the merry-go-round for hours while he just sat, watching us and the other family groups that would come and go. We didn't know it then, but he was thinking, "There must be a better way of amusing people. There must be more things for them to do." When he built Disneyland many years later, he put a beautiful, historical carousel in Fantasyland. That was a symbol to him of those bygone Sundays and the little merry-go-round in Griffith Park, where his dreams of Disneyland began.

Everything delighted him. He loved mechanical clocks. On one trip to Europe he took Sharon (I was 15, and you don't go anywhere with your father when you're 15) to see the famous clock in Strasbourg Square. He had seen it as a young man with the Red Cross during World War I, and he thought it was the most magnificent clock in the world. He put animated clocks in his productions whenever he could, from "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs" and "Pinocchio" on the screen to "It's a Small World" in the Magic Kingdoms.

DIANE AND WALT DISNEY AT USC DAD'S DAY, 1952

Nothing escaped his curiosity and imagination. The first time we went to Paris, Mother, Sharon and I had been together all day and Dad was off on his own. He came back to the hotel with boxes of mechanical toys, the kind you wind up and the monkey claps cymbals, the bear turns a somersault. Different animals doing different things. He started up the toys, and sat on the floor watching them. "Isn't it amazing?" he said. "Look at all the wonderful movements a simple mechanism can produce." We started laughing, because he looked so silly sitting there with all those toys going on around him. But he was really studying them. He had begun thinking about Audio-Animatronics.

Some of the first Audio-Animatronics figures were displayed in 1964 at the New York World's Fair, and Dad had to go back there from time to time. On one flight he and Mother were aboard the company plane with an employee who handled the gate receipts. Dad discovered that some heavy sacks under the seats contained coins to be used for change at the Fair. A twinkle came into his eye.

"This could be serious," he said. "I hope nobody knows what we're carrying here. The sky's full of air pirates, and we could get hijacked. What if we were forced down in Las Vegas, with all these bags of nickels and dimes and quarters...." He gave Mother a wink. "We might have such a good time we wouldn't get home for a week!"

Dad enjoyed being a father, and later a grandfather. He loved family, and we spent a lot of time together. He was wonderful with kids. He would sit outdoors at home, and my kids would be right there with him. My oldest daughter said recently, "It never occurred to me that Grandpa wanted it any other way. I thought he was just delighted to have us there, crawling all over him while he read his scripts." And he was. He would call me from his office and say, "Diane, can't we have one or two of the kids this weekend?"

Our family misses him deeply. We all grew up feeling very important to him, we loved him, and we had a lot of fun with him. He was a wonderful father. ♡

JOURNEY THROUGH EPCOT CENTER WITH MICHAEL YOUNG

Within Walt Disney World's EPCOT Center in Florida lie the fabulous realms of Future World and World Showcase. It would take a lifetime of vacations to explore all the countries whose splendors are displayed there. But with Michael Young as your host and The Disney Channel's EPCOT MAGAZINE as your daily ticket of admission, you can visit EPCOT Center without ever leaving home.

"It's the most amazing place on earth," says Young, who, with occasional co-hosts like Mary Frann, Morgan Brittain, Randi Oakes and Marion Ross, leads his guests as well as Disney Channel viewers through the billion-dollar wonderland.

"Where else could you find more exotic locations?" he asks. "In World Showcase we can do our show from the floating gardens of Xochimilco or a Japanese pagoda, shop for Scottish plaids or Chinese silks, refresh ourselves in a British pub or Bavarian Biergarten.

"In Future World the boundaries are literally limitless. We can travel back to prehistoric times, or into a future of marvels yet to come. Imagine!

"But EPCOT MAGAZINE covers people, too," Young adds, "and although our program originates in EPCOT Center, it ranges widely. We look for subjects that are new, exciting, futuristic and innovative."

Tall, dark and personably handsome, Young is an engaging host.

"I was born with the curiosity of a cat. That's what made me what I am today," he says.

"At one time I thought of becoming a politician or an actor. Then I got into the talk show business. This is my niche, and I'll never leave it."

Young's task as an interviewer is to pry conversational pearls from diverse people.

"Some of them clam up," he admits. "I like to meet guests beforehand and get acquainted. My big thrill is when a nice, non-professional person suddenly says something brilliant during the show! When that happens I feel good for the rest of the day." ♥

THIS MONTH

Some news and views featured this month in EPCOT MAGAZINE...

The Country Home Look And How To Get It—Quilts, wood carvings, farm implements, folk art...collecting American country pieces is "in." Visit a store that specializes in country items, from antique to contemporary, and meet a Connecticut collector in her countrified home.

The L-5 Society—What will life be like in a space colony? If the L-5 Society has its way, we'll be living in one within 100 years. Get the word from visionary members including the president of Northrup Corporation and the president of OMNI Publications.

The Funniest Town In America—Drop in on Wilton, Connecticut, and its 15 famous resident cartoonists, among them the creators of Superman, Hagar, Hi and Lois and L'il Orphan Annie. Observe their lifestyle as they work, play and share a congenial, creative environment together.

Kid Video Geniuses—Meet Mark Turmell, a computer wizard at 17, who is now a professional video game producer. He's typical of other young prodigies who, besides earning fortunes, are developing the popular, worldwide electronic game industry.

The Kitchen Of The Future—Crazy toys? Or are they really useful? Look into the future with an inventor who has designed gadgets to make kitchen chores easier. He'll show you how they work, and what you can expect to find in the kitchen of tomorrow.

Moonlighting Celebrities—Many celebrities, like conglomerates, are diversified. Find out who's working both sides of the street and across town as well. Jack Klugman tells you about his popcorn business and the store he owns in New York.

The Chocolate Convention—Here's everything you wanted to know about chocolates but were afraid to ask. Visit a Chocolate Convention in Los Angeles, learn about various types of chocolates and the art of chocolate making. Then find out if you, too, are a chocoholic.

(Maximilian Schell, Anthony Perkins, Robert Forster, Joseph Bottoms, Yvette Mimieux, Ernest Borgnine)

Embark on a space adventure so profound that even scientists shy back in awe.

Imagine yourself seated in outer space. In the distance are bright pinpoints of light—the stars. And farther away, the vast wispy collections of stars called galaxies.

Before you is empty space, and within it a cosmic ball of mystery: a black hole. Space and time end at its edge. Anything that passes beyond that point enters an unknown dimension. Oblivion? Eternity? A black hole, some scientists say, can seal the doom of our entire universe.

"The Black Hole" rockets you on an astonishing journey into deep space, to the long-lost American space voyager Cygnus hovering precariously on the brink of a devastating black hole.

Still manned by a crew of astronauts and robots, the half-mile long Cygnus has become the domain of Cmdr. Hans Reinhardt (Maximilian Schell). It is a world to itself—where genius and madness intertwine and dreams become nightmares.

Five years in development and 14 months in production, "The Black Hole" is a $20 million exploration of science's ultimate phenomenon. Enjoy your trip!

Here's a gem from Down Under for armchair travelers who love faraway places and fascinating characters.

On a majestic storm-swept stretch of Australian seacoast, a reclusive fisherman and his small son live in simple solitude. An aborigine named Fingerbone Bill camps nearby. Although they are worlds apart culturally, they share a deep respect for nature. They also share affection for "Mr. Percival," a wild pelican that has been tamed and trained as a domestic pet.

Their harmonious coexistence is suddenly shattered by the intrusion of unwelcome outsiders: spoilers, hunters, strangers.

This unusual drama, filmed entirely on location, depicts the consequences when these four remarkably different but freedom-loving characters unite to protect their independent way of life.

(Animated Feature)

Hurry, hurry, hurry, circus fans . . . the big show's ready to start!

Mirth and melody share the spotlight and "Dumbo" takes the center ring in this cherished cartoon classic about a baby circus elephant with oversized ears who soars to fame and fortune.

Among the most appealing of all Disney animated films, "Dumbo" premiered in 1941. It has gone on to win the hearts of audiences everywhere in the world.

"Dumbo" is remembered by veteran studio artists as the fastest and easiest feature-length cartoon Walt Disney ever had them produce.

"Walt knew exactly how he wanted to go with the story," says Ward Kimball, an animation director on the film.

"The way he outlined it was the way it turned out. That in itself was unique."

"The guys were all very excited, and we worked fast. I remember at one point I was animating 40 feet of film a week. The average rate was about a foot and a half a week."

"We finished 'Dumbo' in a little over a year, about a quarter of the time usually spent on a feature-length cartoon."

The result is a picture overflowing with delightful touches, captivating songs, and memorable sequences ranging from Dumbo's touching reunion with his mother to the phantasmagoric pink elephants on parade.

THE SCHEME OF THINGS

Journey to the far reaches of Earth and explore its great wonders on THE SCHEME OF THINGS, a daily half-hour series focusing on science and the thrill of human discovery

Whether they are on land, at sea, or in space, you'll travel to new frontiers of discovery and meet the people who are finding answers to many of life's

most intriguing mysteries

This month, in "Wanted S.O.S.," witness the dramatic efforts of dedicated groups battling to save some gravely endangered species

First, join a marine mammal rescue mission on the jagged shores of the Pacific Coast, and see how miracles of modern medicine are used to help wounded or stranded seals, porpoises, whales and other marine denizens.

Then travel to a special rehabilitation center where injured birds of prey—hawks, falcons, owls and eagles—are mended and taught to fly again.

Each day, through journeys like this, the program inspires greater understanding of ourselves and of "THE SCHEME OF THINGS" around us. Be ready to cast off for adventure!

Mon.-Fri., 4:30 p.m.

Sun., 2:00 p.m.

THE PRIDE OF THE YANKEES

(Gary Cooper, Teresa Wright, Walter Brennan, Babe Ruth)

Here's all the excitement of baseball fever during the 1920s and 1930s! With this, the first of a series of memorable Samuel Goldwyn productions being presented on The Disney Channel, you're right behind home plate for the story of "Iron Horse" Lou Gehrig

This epic film takes Gehrig from his youth as a sandlot slugger, through his phenomenal career with the New York Yankees, to his emotional farewell before a stadium packed with fans. It goes behind the legend for a close, warmhearted look at the man himself

Gary Cooper portrays Gehrig, the great first baseman who played a record 2,130 consecutive games during his 14 years with the Yanks. Babe Ruth, the immortal "Sultan of Swat," appears as himself in his real-life role of Gehrig's teammate and mentor.

BETWEEN THE ACTS

Expect the unexpected on The Disney Channel! Special short subjects are included each day with feature-length films. You won't find these treats on any other channel!

Go to equatorial Africa for an up-close look at "The African Lion and His Realm." Then zoom through outer space for a "Close-Up on the Planets," featuring rare NASA satellite photos of our solar system.

Nearer to home you'll be captivated by "The Reluctant Dragon," an animated comedy about a dragon who'd rather read poetry than fight. And your fun-making chums Mickey Mouse and Goofy are around in "Mickey's Parrot" and "Tiger Trouble."

Classic cartoons and award-winning educational and nature films are sprinkled throughout your daily programming. Enjoy the enchantment!

KING of the GRIZZLIES

(John Yesno,
Chris Wiggins,
Hugh Webster,
Jack Van Evera)

Reach the peak of outdoor adventure with a heroic grizzly bear and the Indian youth who called him brother

This is the legend of Wabbi, a mighty grizzly that roamed and ruled the high country of western Canada, and a young Cree Indian named Moki.

Moki, brother to all bears through tribal rite, works as foreman of a frontier cattle ranch. Trouble starts when he is ordered to hunt and kill marauding bears that have invaded the cattle range.

Based on a story by the naturalist author Ernest Thompson Seton, "King of the Grizzlies" was filmed in the panoramic splendor of the Canadian Rockies. Under the direction of Ron Kelly and wildlife photographer Lloyd Beebe, Disney camera crews spent two years bringing it to the screen. The title role was played by a 10-foot, 1,300-pound grizzly bear named Big Ted.

EPCOT America America

Charles W. Morgan, the world's only remaining square-rigged whaler. (Thursday, June 9)

You'll also watch 76-year-old Dominick Sylvester of Cleveland, Ohio teach gymnastics in a juvenile detention center. (Thursday, June 16) and visit the Gould family in their 125-year-old lighthouse at Quoddy Head, Maine. (Thursday, June 23)

After each segment,

Bridges conducts a lively opinion poll in EPCOT's Future Choice Theater. Here, questions relating to the program are asked of a typical audience. The results are tabulated by computer and revealed instantly. The fun is to play along at home and compare your answers with theirs. Each week you'll see America unfold before your eyes.

WISH UPON A STAR

Dream anything! Find a star and wish! Then share some once-in-a-lifetime thrills with 7- to 12-year-olds as they try their favorite fantasies on for size.

This month, go along with one "wishful thinker" while she becomes a circus clown. People of the Big Top help her rehearse, put on clown makeup and costume, then let her perform before cheering crowds.

Each show features "kid-on-the-street" interviews conducted by hostess Joyce Little at Disneyland. You'll be inspired by occasional segments on energetic young "doers" who have found ways to turn their dreams into reality.

Discover what kids wish for, and how it feels to have a dream come true. Who knows—you may do a little wishful thinking of your own!

THE FIGHTING PRINCE OF DONEGAL

(Peter McEnery,
Susan Hampshire,
Tom Adams,
George Jackson,
Andrew Kier)

Answer the call to action, romance and adventure!

Sixteenth century Ireland is the scene for this swashbuckler about a rip-roaring son-of-Erin who singlehandedly rocks an empire.

Young prince Hugh

O'Donnell becomes the hero chosen to unite the clans of Ireland and free them from English oppression. In doing so he is captured by his British enemies. He finally escapes and attacks their besieged fortress at Donegal.

A sparkling romance, colorful setting, and stirring musical score all contribute to the non-stop excitement.

While the film story is fictional, it is based on authentic exploits of the real Prince of Donegal, Red Hugh.

Take several personality-plus-preschoolers and their parents, mix well with music, dance and imagination, and you've got YOU AND ME, KID—the best thing to happen to parent/child playtime since peek-a-boo!

Turn your home into a place for learning and fun with this landmark interactive program. It's the perfect solution for "what-can-I-do-itis" and the answer to parents' concerns about passive television viewing

Join host Sonny Melen-drez with kids and parents in dozens of activities, starting with snappy exercises in a segment called "Let's Go!" You and your child learn songs, dances and games in "Musical Mo-tions"; practice listening and observation skills in "Ssh!"; try your hand at pantomime in "Mime Your Own Business"; and take the lead roles in mini-dramas with on-screen performers during "You and Me Theater." In "Famous and 1/2" you'll spend time with celebrity guests including Lou Ferrigno, Willie Ames and Vicki Lawrence at home with their children

Enjoy a warm cuddle as the show closes on a tender note with a song to share. Turn to page 28 and let the fun continue. Directions and lyrics to activities and songs seen on the show are reprinted monthly in The Disney Channel Magazine so you and the toddler in your life can make the most of YOU AND ME, KID anytime, anywhere!

THE DAY THE EARTH STOOD STILL

(Michael Rennie, Patricia Neal, Sam Jaffe, Hugh Marlowe)

Thrill to this science fiction classic about an extra-terrestrial advocate of universal peace.

Klaatu, a spokesman from another planet, lands his UFO in Washington, D.C. after circling the earth to attract attention. His message to the nations of the world is simple but awesome: stop aggressive conquest of outer space or risk annihilation.

To prove his power, he brings global activity to a halt by neutralizing all electrical energy (except for hospitals and planes in flight) for 30 minutes.

Made in 1951 when the world was still recovering from the shock of nuclear warfare, this film remains prophetic. Suspense is built from the very first scenes with realistic effects and impressive acting Robert Wise, whose credits include "The Sound of Music," "Sand Pebbles" and "West Side Story," directed.

Watch enchanting scenes from Walt Disney animated masterpieces while you participate in this lively game show.

Memorable sequences from landmark films like "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs," "Pinocchio," "Peter Pan" and

"Bambi" challenge contestants and you to tests of memory and perception.

No special knowledge is needed—just sharp ears and eyes.

Hosted by Ralph Harris, the game is played on a life-sized board divided into four themed stations

Books, Animals, Heroes and Villains, and Magic.

Two teams of children in fanciful vehicles race to each station. There they watch scenes from classic Disney films and answer questions about them. A special home audience question will keep you involved and on your toes!

(The results are revealed near the close of the show.)

Join the fun! And for extra entertainment, play the special CONTRAPTION home game on page 26-27. Mon. & Wed., 3:00 p.m. Sat., 8:00 a.m.

The Little Prince

(Richard Kiley,
Bob Fosse,
Steven Warner,
Gene Wilder,
Donna McKechnie)

Share magical moments with a prince from another planet in this musical fable by the authors of "My Fair Lady."

An airplane pilot is forced down in the Sahara Desert, a thousand miles (or so it seems) from help. He is surprised to meet a small stranger, who turns out to be a boy prince from Asteroid B-612.

The young visitor has reached this earth after a mystical planet-hopping journey in search of wisdom. He has encountered a King, a Businessman, a Historian and a General, with out success.

His quest ends at last when the stranded pilot and two earthly denizens in the form of a Fox and a Snake give the little prince the knowledge he seeks: the secret of what is really important in life.

Based on the story by Antoine de Saint-Exupéry, screenplay and lyrics were written by Alan Jay Lerner and Frederick Loewe.

Especially for the inquisitive, the adventurous, the animal lover and people with a sense of wonder here's NEW! ANIMAL WORLD.

Travel around the world from Alaska to Africa, Kenya to Key West with Bill Burrud, in search of the secrets and surprises found in the animal kingdom.

Take a close look this month at the habits and habitat of the Alaskan brown bear, and find out what man is doing to insure its survival

Then travel to the Amboseli Game Reserve in Kenya, where the once-prolific wildlife is threatened by native cattlemen and tourists alike

"Animal Oddities" and "Animal Quiz" reveal little-known facts and test your knowledge of the animal kingdom. (Related activities and puzzles appear on page 30.)

You'll leave each episode of this fascinating series with a better understanding of animals, increased concern about their survival and renewed respect for those who work to protect them.

(John Mills, Dorothy McGuire, James MacArthur, Janet Munro, Tommy Kirk, Kevin Corcoran)

Escape the "madding crowd" and workaday world for action-packed adventure in the South Seas!

A family of five Swiss emigrants is marooned on a desert island after their ship is attacked by pirates, then sunk in a storm. They set about turning the island into a home by building a fabulous tree house for their comfort, a hilltop fortress for protection, and taming a menagerie of wild animals

One obstacle after another is overcome, until two of the three sons rescue a young girl from pirates who have dropped anchor off the other side of the island. This results in a battle royal that's fierce, furious and finally funny.

Johann Wyss wrote "Swiss Family Robinson" to preserve the tales he and his sons made up while imagining themselves in Robinson Crusoe's goatskin shoes. Not originally intended for publication, the narrative was later edited and illustrated by Wyss' descendants. The book is now a children's classic.

When Walt Disney decided to film it, he spared no expense or effort to recreate the setting. The Caribbean island of Tobago proved perfect, and tons of materials, thousands of props, and a virtual zoo full of animals were flown to nearby Trinidad, then ferried to Tobago for the production.

Mouseterpiece Theater

The reviews are in. The response is unanimous. 'MOUSERPIECE THEATER' is a runaway television hit!

Join host George Plimpton each night for a rousing half hour of highbrow hilarity, featuring the world's funniest and most famous cartoons. As resident Disneyphile and "holder of the Donald Duck Chair in Modern Literature" Plimpton provides the lively commentary for this lavish banquet of Disney fare.

Through his keen wit and informative introductions, you'll gain remarkable insight into the art of Disney animation and discover little-known secrets of its stars. For instance, Did you know that Goofy, affectionately known as "the Goof," was originally named Dippy Dawg? Or how about Daisy Duck? Like Eleanor Roosevelt, she too married a spouse with the same surname. Hence as Donald Duck's bride in "Donald's Dilemma," her full name became Daisy Duck Duck.

These and other tidbits of cinematic lore are revealed nightly. Tune-in and enjoy the fun!

This month, there's plenty of vintage Disney on tap in cartoons like "Steamboat Willie," "Flowers and Trees," "The Tortoise and the Hare" and "Casey at the Bat." You, too, can test your own Disney animation knowledge. Turn to page 29 and take the "MOUSERPIECE THEATER Trivia Quiz."

BOY VOYAGE!

(Fred MacMurray, Jane Wyman, Michael Callan, Deborah Walley)

There's fun for everybody when the Willards, a typical midwestern American family, set out on their first trip abroad.

After years of planning and saving, Harry Willard (Fred MacMurray) takes his wife and three children on a luxury cruise to Europe.

Once there, a series of romantic surprises and comic misadventures provide the vacationing Willards with more excitement than anyone bargained for.

DISNEY STUDIO SHOWCASE

If you are a white-knuckle flier, sit back and watch "So You're Afraid to Fly," premiering June 14 on DISNEY STUDIO SHOWCASE

Beginning with the delivery of an American Airlines DC-9-80 and ending with its maiden flight, this reassuring program takes you step by step through the engineering, construction and testing of a modern commercial aircraft.

With its emphasis on safety, the show aims to replace the "groundless fears" of timid passengers with confidence in air travel

"Where Did All My Money Go?," premiering June 28, deals with the potent influence of video games on young people and our economy

You'll go behind-the-scenes to meet video game designers and see how players spend their dollars

Produced by Disney feature film makers, DISNEY STUDIO SHOWCASE is a kaleidoscope of novel ideas and topics that will interest every member of your family

Mickey Mouse CLUB

Okay, Mousekafans! Put on your ears, pull up a chair, sing along and laugh along with the original Mickey Mouse Club!

Here come the merry Mouseketeers (they've got a lot above their ears!) with all the Mousekashines that made them TV favorites of the fabulous Fifties

Meet them again: Annette, Darlene, Cubby, Tommy, Lonnie, Cheryl, Sharon, Nancy, Bonnie, Sherry, Don, Eileen, Doreen, Bobby... Roy, the Big Mouseketeer... Jimmie Dodd... Jiminy Cricket... and, of course, the leader of the club that's made for you and me M-I-C-K-E-Y M-O-U-S-E.

It's Mousekemory time as they perform on "Fun With Music Day" (Monday); "Guest Star Day" (Tuesday); "Anything Can Happen Day" (Wednesday); "Circus Day" (Thursday); and "Talent Round-up Day" (Friday)

"Clint and Mac" and "Annette" are featured serials on THE MICKEY MOUSE CLUB this month

Tune in and join the jamboree!

Mon.-Fri., 3:30 p.m.

cindy

(Charlaine Woodard,
Mae Mercer,
Nell Carter,
Clifton Davis,
Scoey Mitchell)

Swing into Harlem during the big band era of World War II for a hep musical version of "Cinderella."

This time Cindy's a country girl stuck in New York with her wicked stepmother and two stepsisters Pretty Grimm, until Cindy catches the eye of Capt. Joe Prince at the Sugar Hill Ball. At midnight, though, her slippers turn into sneakers; Cindy leaves one on the ballroom floor in her rush for home.

Capt. Prince hires a private eye to find her, and so he does. But this fairy tale has a new and different ending—both for Cindy and her true Prince Charming!

Charlaine Woodard, who plays Cindy, starred in the award-winning Broadway and TV productions of "Ain't Misbehavin'."

Nell Carter, also a top entertainer in musicals from "Ain't Misbehavin'" to the situation comedy "Gimme a Break," heads an all-black supporting cast

(Guy Williams, Henry Calvin, Gene Sheldon)

Turn time back to Spanish California and ride with the legendary Zorro!

Action abounds in this daily series about the mysterious masked avenger known only by his mark: a sword-slashed "Z."

Guy Williams plays Zorro "the Fox," by day a mild-mannered fop, by night a crusading scourge of the rich and champion of the downtrodden

Mon.-Fri., 5:30 p.m.

The Wild Country

(Steve Forrest, Vera Miles, Jack Elam, Ron Howard)

Go back a century in time, and watch a green-horn pioneer family move into the wilderness to begin a new life against terrifying odds.

Rather than prolong a mere existence in 19th century Pittsburgh, the Tanners—father, mother and two young sons—take on the challenges of the Western frontier by becoming farmers in Wyoming territory.

There they rebuild their ranch, rework the land, struggle for water rights, face cyclone and fire, and finally fight for their very lives against a neighboring cattleman.

"The Wild Country" was filmed on three working ranches near Jackson Hole, Wyoming. It celebrates the gallant American spirit that won the West and developed a nation.

Welcome To Pooh Corner

"Welcome to you and how do you do? Everyone's waiting here, waiting for you!"

What child can resist an invitation like that? Especially when it means rollicking adventures in an enchanted wood with the world's most beloved bear—Winnie the Pooh—and his puppetronic friends Tigger, Piglet, Owl, Kanga, Roo and Rabbit!

Watch your youngsters take these life-sized puppets straight to their hearts as they sing, dance, and cavort against colorful storybook settings.

Narrated by kindly-voiced Laurie Main (who looks every bit the perfect storyteller), episodes such as "Tigger Tells a Whale of a Tale" teach gentle lessons about social and personal values.

Along with the daily story...adventure, young viewers will be treated to a challenging thinking game and a lively sing-along. Original music includes songs by the Academy Award-winning Sherman brothers. Hurry to meet the charming residents of Pooh Corner! They're waiting to bring you delightful moments of laughter, learning and love!

MICKEY'S Just for Kids SECTION

Hi there!

Welcome to Mickey's Just for Kids Section! I love summer, don't you? The days are made for swimming, biking, circuses, baseball and some good old goofing around!

This summer, THE DISNEY CHANNEL can be a big part of your adventures!

Travel with us from the circus to the wild west. Explore a desert island, watch animal rescue teams at work, and laugh along with me and my pals!

Mickey's Just for Kids Section is part of the action too, with activities to keep you busy from breakfast to bedtime!

You can play your own "Contraption" game, make Dad a Father's Day card, or turn yourself into a clown!

So get ready, get set! Here comes the best summer ever—from THE DISNEY CHANNEL—to YOU!

Donald's CHANNEL CHATTER

Lately, getting mail has been more exciting than ever because of all the wonderful letters and pictures you've sent. This month you'll be going along on fantastic adventures as you watch films like 'Swiss Family Robinson,' 'The Black Hole' and 'The Wild Country.' If you've ever imagined yourself taking part in a real adventure, send us a picture, story, poem or letter telling us all about it! (Get quacking and write soon! I'm looking forward to hearing from you!)

"PUT ON A HAPPY FACE!"

Feel like clowning around? All it takes is a little imagination and things you can find around your house to turn yourself and your friends into neighborhood clowns and your backyard into a circus! (Ask Mom or Dad to help and be sure you have permission before borrowing anything!)

Watch as one young dreamer takes a turn under the big top on WISH UPON A STAR June 21 and June 30.

1 Outline the eye and mouth shapes you want with a soft, dark eyebrow pencil.

2 Cover your face with a little cold cream (except for the eye and mouth shapes you've just outlined). Gently pat on talcum powder with a cotton ball

3 Go back and fill in the eye outline with the eyebrow pencil. Fill in the mouth outline with red lipstick

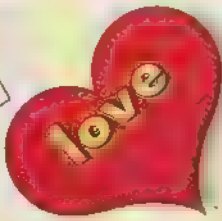

6 Punch small holes on both sides of a paper cup. Thread elastic or string through the holes, turn the cup upside down and you've got a hat

5 Make funny hair from a mop head (clean of course). Or glue bits of yarn or torn construction paper to the inside of an old hat or scarf.

4 Paint your nose with the lipstick. Or cut a smooth hole in a ping-pong ball, paint the ball red, then slip it onto the tip of your nose

Just for Kids

DIRECTIONS: Cut card along broken lines. Fold on solid lines. Cut out strip of paper and pleat by folding on solid lines. Put a drop of glue on both A spots and press together. Put a drop of glue on both B spots and press together. Sign your name(s) and write your own message to tell Dad how much he means to you.

MOUSERCISE

Find out more about healthy eating habits on the "Coach's Corner" segment of MOUSERCISE (Monday-Friday mornings).

STEAMBOAT WILLIE ROUNDS

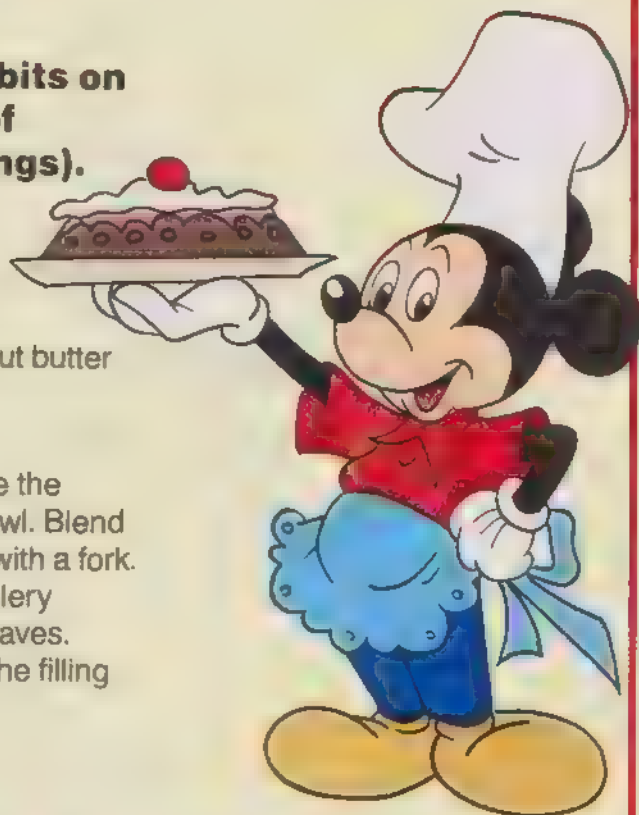

1 7-oz. can tuna or salmon
1/3 cup mayonnaise or salad dressing
Whole wheat melba rounds
1/4 cup grated cheese

Mix tuna or salmon with mayonnaise (if using salmon, take out bones and skin first). Spread on whole wheat melba rounds. Top with grated cheese. Serve cold.

CIRCUS CELERY

1 small apple
1/4 cup crunchy peanut butter
4-6 celery stalks

Wash, peel and grate the apple into a small bowl. Blend in the peanut butter with a fork. Wash and dry the celery stalks and trim the leaves. Stuff the stalks with the filling and serve.

CLUES TO LIBRARY ADVENTURES

Many of the exciting films you see on THE DISNEY CHANNEL started off as exciting books! Watch the movies, then read the books! Find them in the library for summertime adventure that will take you anywhere your imagination wants to go.

"Swiss Family Robinson,"
Johann Wyss

"The Little Prince,"
Antoine de Saint-Exupéry

"The House at Pooh Corner,"
A.A. Milne

If you enjoyed the movie, "Storm Boy," and think living by the sea sounds exciting, try reading "The Island of the Blue Dolphins" by Scott O'Dell. It's based on the real story of a young Indian girl who survives alone on a deserted island for 18 years, despite wild dog attacks, earthquakes, and loneliness.

Making Minutes Count With Famous Fathers

Everyone agrees that time together is essential to healthy, happy family relationships. But for busy parents, finding time can be a problem. So, in keeping with Father's Day, we asked some celebrity dads seen on YOU AND ME, KID to share how they make minutes count with their youngsters.

Then show the toddlers in your home how TV time can be active fun-time! Gather round the set, watch YOU AND ME, KID, and sing-along, play-along and act-along with Sonny Melendrez and his guests.

Sonny Melendrez credits his close relationship with his adolescent daughter Karrie to an early tradition of setting aside time especially for her

SONNY MELENDREZ, HOST OF YOU AND ME, KID

'We invented 'zip-a-dee-doo-dah days' when we'd do whatever she wanted,' Sonny recalls.

'It didn't cost a lot, because her idea of great fun was riding to the park on my bike and having me push her on the swings.

"By doing what Karrie chose, I let her know that I took her suggestions seriously, and that I really wanted to be with her.'

For Lou Ferrigno, quality time means giving Shana undivided attention when she speaks

"Unlike most parents, who can listen

LOU FERRIGNO AND SHANA

while preoccupied, my hearing handicap means I have to stop what I'm doing and concentrate when Shana has something to say to me. That's a big plus for her because I'm really listening carefully.

"Come to think of it, that's probably a plus in any relationship Bathtime is father-and-son time at the Greco household. "I've bathed Jean-Paul since he was a baby," he says. "We play with water pistols, cut up or have heart-to-heart discussions about anything and everything. Helping him gives us both a sense of physical closeness.

"Kids need lots of hugs and pats and squeezes," Buddy asserts. "What better time than while towel-drying?"

BUDDY GRECO AND JEAN-PAUL

SHARE A MINUTE SHARE A SMILE.

Show the toddlers in your home how TV time can be active fun-time! Gather round the set, watch YOU AND ME, KID, and sing-along, play-along and act-along with Sonny Melendrez and his guests

You'll see and hear the following activities and songs on YOU AND ME, KID this month. We've printed the lyrics and directions so you can learn and use them anytime, anywhere.

"How Do You Do, My Partner." (June 15 & 21)

Face each other while singing and doing the indicated motions

How do you do, my partner? (Bow To Each Other)

How do you do today? (Shake Hands)

Will you dance in a circle?

I will show you the way (Hold hands, Dance In Circle)

Repeats, changing circle action:

Will you hop in a circle? (Hold Hands Hop On One Foot In Circle)

Will you jump in a circle? (Hold Hands, Jump In Circle)

Will you spin in a circle? (Hold Hands, Partners Spin Around In Circle)

SHHH! (June 14 & 22)

This activity encourages good listening skills. Have your child make up a sound and "throw" it to you. You "throw" the exact sound back. Then you make up a new sound for your child to "catch" and repeat. Example: Child says, "Oo-ged-dy boo-ge-dy woo-woo-wam!" and makes a tossing motion. Parent repeats same. Parent then says, "Woosh-a woosh-a walla-walla hokey-poke!"

ARE YOU THINKING TOO THIN? A SELF TEST.

June 2

A grande dame once said, "You can never be too rich or too thin." Ask the family of an anorexic child how they feel about that, and they would probably agree with the first part and soundly reject the second. Although we are the best fed country on earth, we are also a society obsessed with thinness—often to the detriment of our health.

Answer this EPCOT MAGAZINE family thinness quiz, then watch the show and compare your answers with the most recent medical findings.

1. You are a five-foot woman. Is it healthier for you to be 10 pounds overweight or 10 pounds underweight?
2. You are a man over six feet tall. Can you comfortably gain 15 pounds without injuring your health?
3. Your 13-year-old daughter is constantly dieting. Do you have cause for alarm?
4. Your teenage daughter is obsessed with her appearance: constantly striving to look "perfect." Should you be concerned?
5. You join a gym and find yourself working out there two or three times a day...everyday. Can too much exercise ever be a bad thing?

We invite you to discuss these questions, your answers, and the program content as a family, particularly if you have teens at home.

Dear Mr. Jimirro:

At its recent meeting, the National PTA's Board of Directors expressed commendation of the family of Walt Disney Productions.

The Board wanted to commend the development of the Disney Channel subscription family television service which emphasizes family participation in viewing experiences and encourages active participation in a range of educational and informational programs for viewers of all ages. We especially want to encourage the continued development of print materials and creative programs in the tradition of the "Wonderful World of Disney."

Sincerely,
